Dad Is Just Funny

(Verse 1)
He walks into the room, big smile on his face jokes already loaded, no need to embrace;
One eyebrow raised, pure hilariousness at will then over dinner, his stand-up act kills.

(Pre-Chorus)
The dog's even laughing, babies lose control;
Mom's now in tears, he's surely on a roll!

(Chorus)
dad is just funny--most comical soul around
Everyone knows it--da king of comedy town
People must understand--yeah dad is just funny
The man invented how to be a clown

(Verse 2)
When he does that voice, yo it cracks people up
Invents a whole story, no props, eyes all moist;
Then trips over himself, so he can take a bow
Snot oozing from my nose, I mean wow just wow

(Pre-Chorus)
And when my day gets heavy, his jokes become more dry
Cause dad finds a way to help shy giggles fly!!

(Chorus)
dad is just funny--most comical soul around
Everyone knows it--da king of comedy town
People must understand--yeah dad is just funny
The man invented how to be a clown

(Bridge)
...He's not the loudest
...and rarely ever around
...But when the world gets too serious
...his humor goes downtown!!

(Final Chorus)
Oh, dad is just funny--most comical soul around
Everyone knows it too—a legend in riot town
I hope people know--he's funny not just round
if laughing was art, he'd paint himself a crown!

(Coda, spoken)
So everyone… please raise a glass… to the funniest cat in Motown
A rare human being… yeah dad… you're funny all year long

(Pause)
Too bad your kid just stole your funny title with this song!
