

If I Love You

*The song in my heart fell silent
Until your kiss began its serenade
How can you trust so blindly, girl
I'm just not that brave
Great love affairs take time
Leaving no extra breath to spare
But giving up almost everything is way too dangerous a dare
What must I do to prepare?
If I love you--and there's no chemistry
You will leave me--'cause forever's no guarantee
Yes, if I love you—give away my heart for free
Will you be there when death parts us, baby
For years I searched through strangers
Always acting cheerful and polite
But on the glorious day we met
I knew faith, hope and love arrived
So how do we survive?
If I love you--and there's no chemistry
You will leave me--'cause forever's no guarantee
Yes, if I love you—give away my heart for free
Will you be there when death parts us, baby
So much can wrong—it's impossible to know—all we can do is surrender
—pray somehow we reap what we sow
—two seeds planted as one to grow!
—It's time our destiny unfolds!!!
If I love you--and we have real synergy
I won't leave you—'cause my vow is eternity
Yes if I love you—know happiness is not free
You must be there no matter the catastrophe
—no matter the catastrophe
—no matter the catastrophe
—baby, it's just you and me, fire walking ... eternally*
