

Elevate

*How do I forgive what I can't forget?
Why must we relive painful regrets?
Is there something more I should do?
Some old lesson maybe I can review?
Saint Patrick, stop me before I scratch the cue!
Pull me up as I crumble
Help me overcome worst fears
Heal me when I'm wounded
No man should be shamed through the years
Then teach me to love, absent of hate...
So this life dares elevate... my life dares elevate
Haven't looked into a mirror
Since dad took off last era
Now I'm frightened and alone
Without a mentor to call my own
As male weakness answers the phone!
Pull me up as I crumble
Help me overcome worst fears
Heal me when I'm wounded
No man should be shamed through the years
Then teach me to love, absent of hate...
So this life dares elevate... my life dares elevate
There's got to be an answer why father's run when they should fight
An Irish curse endured by generations, no child should play in financial blight
Lads we've gotta make things right!!!
Pull me up as I crumble
Help me overcome worst fears
Heal me when I'm wounded
No man should be shamed through the years
Then teach me to love, absent of hate...
So this life dares elevate... my life dares elevate
And in the quiet hours, I pray my words are righteous
Before judgment comes falling down and a humble soul hears no sound
... when lost becomes found! ... elevating all of Castletown!
... good Irish men they abound ... good Irish men they abound...*
