

“Flying”

Music by John Pagano

Lyrics by Alexander

Every night I spend alone my future seems so unknown
If patience begs me to stay why do my dreams still drift astray
I don't understand
Miracles happen everyday

And I feel like
No one knows my name
Like something needs to change
And I feel like flying
Flying far away

Nothing is out of my reach, I know life's lessons are free Seven days make me so weak... has my life reached its highest peak
Help me understand
Heaven hides just before I seek

And I feel like
There's no picture in this frame
Like all remains the same
And I feel like flying...to a circus deep inside my head
How much water must I tread
'Cause when I'm flying, tears stop crying
And nothing's left unsaid

Now I feel like
My luck's about to change
I'll soar above the rain
Love will find a way

And I feel like I'm flying
Flying high today
