

"Calm"

Music by John Pagano

Lyrics by Alexander

The sun was almost down when the sand beneath my dreams just washed away

I was alone, living my life unknown
Does a heart always break this way?

Then a voice said hello in a whisper
One smile from your perfect face and I knew I was home

How can I be calm?
When your eyes see right through me and your smile sets my heart free...
tell me now
Do feelings last this long?
Without you I just can't breathe, girl
'Cause only your love lets me be this calm

The moon was on the run, watching first light warm the night into the day
Life sailed on and time never proved us wrong
Girl, the thought of you sends fear away

Now I hear silence where my heart was beating Gravity is all around, but love can't be held down

How can I be calm?
When your eyes see right through me and your smile sets my heart free...
tell me now
Do feelings last this long?
Without you I just can't breathe, girl
'Cause only your love lets me be this calm

Nothing's as I planned it
Oh, this life's seen a beauty it doesn't understand Everything must change, but truly love remains ... forever

How can I be calm?

When your eyes see right through me and your smile sets my heart free...

tell me now

Do feelings last this long?

Without you I just can't breathe, girl

'Cause only your love lets be this

Yes, only your love lets me be ... this calm

Be this calm
